WILL OBVIATE ACCIDENTS.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company has seven crews at work between Santa Clara and Los Angeles, installing the block signal system, which will be rapidly pushed to completion. This new system is a safeguard for passengers, and it will prevent rear-end collisions. One of the crews has arrived at Santa Clara, and will rush the work to San Bruno. From that point to San Francisco, as well as from San Jose to Pajaro, the work is completed. The crew consists of fifteen men in charge of a foreman. The system is automatic, and at every mile and a half red signal boards will be erected. When a train reaches one of these signals the board of danger signal will fly up, and it will remain in that position until the train reaches the next one. As the one raises when the train passes, the one at the rear falls. No train will pass one of these signals while it is raised, and they will be kept at least a mile and a half behind the train ahead, and they will be when numerous Sunday picnic trains are run through here from San Francisco they oftentimes follow very closly, but with the new system in operation they will be kept a certain distance apart.

WATER FOR OAKSIDE PARK.

The Oakside Land Company is building a large cement cistern in the rear of what was formerly known as the Wm. Britton property. The cistern will be 40 feet in diameter and 20 feet in depth with a capacity of about 200,000 gallons. Water will be pumped from artesian wells sunk near the county road and used for the improvement of the Oakside tract which will be laid out in lots and put on the market.

THE STRANGLING FIG.

A Curious Tropical Tree That Lives Upon Other Trees.

Visitors to Mexico and other tropical countries often have their attention called to "the strangling fig"—a tree that commences its growth as an epiphyte—that is, one form of plant life that grows perched on another—far up on the trunk or among the branches of another tree, usually on a palmetto or some of the kinds of palms. The roots of the strangling tree extend downward around the host tree to the ground, gradually joining together, making a tubelike mass of roots sometimes as much as six feet or more in diameter.

When the attacked tree is a palm death to it is caused not so much by the binding around the trunk as by shading out its branches by the attacking tree.

When the attacked tree is an exogen—that is, one with wood and bark—the attacking roots bind so tightly as to cause a stoppage of the flow of the sap. As the sap of a tree is really its food (changed by the leaves so that it can be used) and the flow of the food is thus stopped, the attacked tree is really "starved" to death. So death to the attacked tree is caused either by smothering or by starvation or by both.

The peculiar manner in which the flattened roots extend down and around the tree give them the appearance of some thick, slow flowing material running down the tree.—St. Nicholas.

GRIM OLD CROMWELL.

The Protector Made Christmas a Gloomy and Serious Day.

"Christmas was illegal in Cromwell's time," said an antiquary. "Those grim old Puritans were so gloomy that they would not have any gayety even on Christmas day.

"Cromwell said that holly and mistletoe were heathenish things. He said that they had no real Christian significance; they were a part of some pagan festival of the Druids. Accordingly he made a law that if you decorated your house with mistletoe at Christmas you got thirty days in jail.

"The terrible old fellow forbade Christmas celebrations—no dancing, no singing, no playgoing, no feasting on Christmas day; penalty, thirty days.

"You see, it was his idea that Christmas was a religious, a serious time, a time for churchgoing and prayer and reverence and for nothing else. The innocent family that in Cromwell's day sat down to turkey and plum pudding and wound up with Christmas games got a month all round.

"Only for a time, though. The people rebelled. Willing as the people had been to put on the gloom of those dreadful old Puritans, they insisted on having a little joy on Christmas day, and Cromwell after a year or two had to give in to them."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

"The Woman In White."

In a letter to Charles Dickens, Wilkie Collins intimated the fact that the great work upon which he had devoted so much time was finished, but that the finding of a suitable title had occasioned him much trouble. Eventually, feeling somewhat run down in health, he left London for Broadstairs, a resort which was a favorite with both Dickens and Collins. While lying on the cliff in a meditative mood one bright morning his eyes suddenly riveted themselves on the white lighthouse which stood boldly out in the foreground under the dazzling rays of the midday sun. As he gazed Collins in a semiconscious manner addressed himself in a whisper to the lighthouse. "You are as stiff and as stately as my white woman," said he. "White woman! White wo—the woman in white. Eureka! I have got it!" And so the book was given this curiously inspired title.

The French Idea.

The Frenchman of the middle class sacrifices everything in order to obtain for his children some official position or other, a mean one, perhaps, but a sure one, leading after thirty years of penury to a pension verging on destitution. This is one aspect of the decay of the French race. It is easy to understand that two races are not evenly armed for the struggle for life if one be made up of aspirants to official position and the other of individuals possessing initiative, daring and energy. For this reason do Latin races decline, while Anglo-Saxon races grow and multiply.—Paris Siecle.

Bow and Arrow Fishing.

In the south seas and in various groups of islands in the Indian ocean the aborigines shoot fish with the bow and arrow. The art is extremely difficult, as in taking aim at an object under water the archer has to allow for refraction. If he were to aim directly at the fish as he sees it, he would, of course, miss. Long practice has, however, made the natives expert to a wonderful degree in this sport.—London Saturday Review.

It Was Tough.

The waiter girl knew a thing or two about table etiquette, so she sniffed scornfully as she said, "It's not our custom to serve a knife with pie." "No?" remarked the patron in surprise. "Then bring me an ax."—Christian Register.

He Writes For Money.

Lady Gushington—So your son is a real author! How distractingly interesting! And does he write for money? Practical Dad—Yes; I get his applications about once a week.

Her Perch.

"Did he propose to her on his knees?" "No, but she accepted him on them."—Houston Post.

Optimistic View.

Tom (proudly)—Miss Pinkleigh has promised to be my wife. Jack (consolingly)—Oh, don't let that worry you. Women frequently break their promises.—Chicago News.

Return of the Prodigal.

"I do play in tough luck sometimes," declared the impecunious girl. "Last night, you remember how it rained. I happened to be in the neighborhood of some friends of mine whom I had not seen since the last hard rain. I concluded to call. Before they asked me in they grabbed the umbrella I carried, hurried across the room with it, placed it in a closet there and locked the door on it.

"Thank heaven!' they cried. 'At last! Our long lost umbrella!'"—New York Press.

POMPEIAN MASSAGE CREAM

is today indispensable on the dressing table of gentlewoman or gentleman. Not only does a Pompeian Massage perfectly cleanse the skin, but it removes wrinkles and blackheads, takes out stiffness of the facial muscles, animates the tissues, and makes the flesh firm and solid. Men use Pompeian Cream after shaving—it flexes the muscles and takes away shaving soreness. Most women recognize the value of this preparation in maintaining a clear and healthy skin.

Artists as Sign Painters.

It is surprising how many noted English artists began life by painting inn signs. Among them were Morland, David Cox, Herring and Sir William Beechey. Millais painted a George and Dragon sign for the George inn, Hayes common. Another George and Dragon, at Wargrave on Thames, has a double sided sign painted by two R. A.'s. Goring on Thames has a sign from the brush of Marcus Stone, R. A. There are signs by Walter Crane and Caton Woodville at Grayshott and Fittleworth. Hogarth painted a number of signs for friendly publicans.

Presence of Mind.

It is a mistake to think that it is only the Englishman who keeps his head in a crisis. When a passenger steamboat suddenly struck a rock off Hongkong the other day, a number of Chinese on board promptly started looting the passengers' trunks.—Punch.

The Attraction.

Nell—Isn't she a peculiar girl? She wouldn't look at him when he was rich, but now, after he's lost all his money, she accepts him. Belle—Well, you know how crazy every woman is to get anything that's reduced!

SUPERVISORS IN SESSION

BUSNESS TRANSACTED BY THE AT LAST MEETING

The Board of Supervisors met in regular session last Monday. All the members were present.

Ex-Senator O'Neal of San Jose appeared before the Board and asked for a continuance of the matter allowing a franchise to O. A. Hale to operate an electric railroad over the Middlefield road from the county line to Redwood City.

It thought one month would be sufficient time. MacBain suggested three and this was acceptable to the attorney. On motion of MacBain seconded by Elkerenkotter the matter was deferred to Monday April 15th.

Petitions were received from B. Barrett for a rebate of $48 on liquor license, and from J. Jorgenson for a rebate of $28 on same. Both petitions were allowed.

On motion of Debenedetti seconded by MacBain Alexander and Barber of Pescadero were granted a license to peddle meat.

E. F. Fitzpatrick presented a map of the Mission Tract, near the county line owned by the Concordia Land Company. On motion of Blackburn seconded by MacBain said map was accepted and the following resolution adopted dedicating certain streets delineated on the map to public use.

Whereas, The Concordia Land Company, a corporation, the proprietor of a tract of land in the County of San Mateo, StateofCalifornia, has caused the same to be surveyed and subdivided and laid out into lots for the purpose of sale, and has caused to be made an accurate map or plat thereof particularly setting forth and describing all the parcels of ground within such subdivision reserved for public purposes by their boundaries, courses and extent, and also all lots intended for sale by number of lot and their precise boundaries, said map being designated as "Map of Concordia Land Company's Property, San Mateo County, Cal,' and

Whereas the president and secretary, of said Concordia Land Company, did on the 19th day of Jaunary, 1907, duly acknowledge the said map or plat before M. V. Collins a notary public in and fortheCity and County of San Francisco, State of California, and said notary did on said day affix thereto his certificate of acknowledgement in due form of law; and

Whereas, the foregoing map or plat is now presented to this Board for acceptance:

They have already covered the road in front of the cemeteries that is in good condition, but although several hundred yards of rock had been dumped in chuck holes and deep spots in the other parts of their right of way no impression had been made and the rock had disappeared as if swallowed up. An Ordinance amending an Ordinance entitled "An Ordinance imposing a license tax upon all persons doing business within the limits of the Town of Redwood City, in the County of San Mateo, State of California, and to enforce the collection of the same," passed and adopted by the Board of Trustees of said Town on the 20th day of September, 1887, as amended by Ordinance No. 13 passed and adopted by said Board of Trustees on the 1st day of July, 1898.

The Board of Trustees of the Town of Redwood City do ordain as follows: Section 1. Subdivision 1 of Section 14 of an ordinance entitled "An Ordinance imposing a license tax upon all persons doing business within the limits of the Town of Redwood City in the County of San Mateo, State of California, and to enforce the collection of the same," passed and adopted by the Board of Trustees of the Town of Redwood City on the 20th day of September, 1887, as amended by Ordinance No. 13, passed and adopted by the Board of Trustees on the 1st day of July, 1898, is hereby amended to read as follows:

1. For theatrical, dramatic, or minstrel performances, concerts and panoramas, and every show of any statuary of figures, jugglers, necromancers, magicians, wire or rope walking or dancing, so-called spiritualistic phenomena or exhibition, or sleight-of-hand exhibitions, for the first day five (5) dollars, and for each succeeding day two and 50-100 (2.50) dollars.

Provided, that the owner, manager or lessee of any public theatre or hall in said Town of Redwood City may be granted a license therefor for the term of one year, upon the payment of the sum of Twenty-five (25) dollars which said license shall authorize the giving, in said theatre or hall for which the license shall be issued, any of the performances, entertainments or exhibitions in this subdivision mentioned without the payment of any other or further license tax or fee.

Section 2. This Ordinance shall be published once in the "Redwood City Democrat," and once in the "Times-Gazette," newspapers published in the Town of Redwood City, and shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication.

Introduced the 17th day of December, 1906.

Passed and adopted by the Board of Trustees of the Town of Redwood City, at a regular meeting of said Board held on the 7th day of January, 1907, by the following vote:

Ayes, and in favor of the passage of said Ordinance: Trustees P. J. Foley, Chas. Luscher, C. J. Hynding, and W. C. Havey.

Noes, and against the passage of said Ordinance: Trustees None.

Absent Trustees Henry W. Walker.

Approved this 7th day of January, 1907.

W. C. HAVEY.
President of the Board of Trustees of the Town of Redwood City.
Attest: DANIEL R. STAFFORD
Clerk of the town of Redwood City.

Council Meets

Monday evening the Board of Town Trustees held their regular meeting. Present Trustees Havey, Foley, Hynding and Luscher. Absent, H. Walker.

The claim for the rocking of Arguello street was laid over until next meeting and the contractors requested to see that the work was finished in accordance with the contract.

Chairman Havey was requested to confer with Assessor Hayward regarding the collection of poll tax from firemen.

City Attorney Kincaid was instructed to notify Geo. C. Ross, for the Redwood City Realty Co. to deposit in bank, to the credit of the Town, a sum sufficient to cover the cost of construction of the water system of Wellesley Park.

The map of the Hooper-Cunningham Subdivision was returned to the promoters on account of the narrowness of the streets. The streets of Redwood City are from 60 to80 feet in width while those in the proposed addition did not exceed 40 feet. Besides this the blocks were nearly 700 feet in length with no cross streets at all.

The Clerk was directed to notify owners of livery stables to construct boxes to control the sediment washed off buggies, and prevent the same from getting into the sewer.

The following claims were alloled.
